REPORT OF THE OVERSEERS OF THE POOR

The expenses in this department have decreased during the year. At the close of the year there is one family on direct relief in Turner, and one on partial relief. There is one "non-settled State case" and none of other towns.

The town farm has paid its way and finished the year with a balance of $194.98. There is one inmate on the farm, the same as for the whole year, except for a short time when there were two. There may possibly be another case the coming year. There have been some funeral bills to pay.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Sawyer were employed to manage the town farm at a salary of $50.00 per month. Some shingling and some interior decorating have been done. The January miniature hurricane did some damage to the machine shed. About the same amount of livestock is on the farm, and the cattle are now under State supervision for the Bangs-disease test. Five cows were condemned and have been sold, and three new milch cows have been purchased. Milk is now being sold to Macomber's Dairy in Auburn.

Some timber is being cut and yarded to a mill for market. Harry McCrillis has been employed at the farm since March. Twenty-four tramps were given lodging. An ample supply of canned fruit and vegetables was put in the cellar.

REPORT OF THE FOOD STAMP PLAN

Surplus commodity food stamps have been used by a few families throughout the past year. Beginning July 1st the stamps were sent direct from the State Department. The local stamp agent ordered stamps for relief cases only. Other families order direct from the State food stamp office. One family on local relief and one "non-settled State case" have received the stamps since June. The Federal Government is discontinuing the food stamps for surplus commodities on March 1st, except for schools.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT

As a community of rural people, the people of Turner would seem to have much to be thankful for, in this year 1943. If it were not for the fact of war, and that so many of our fine boys have been called away, we might be quite content with our lot in life.

The old cause of annoyance, the town debt, is fast disappearing, and in our particular case would not seem to be reason for any worry. In this town, with the most of the remaining balance invested locally, at reasonably low interest, and the interest itself largely being returned into town channels, the citizens of Turner will find the problem of town debt a simple one for the immediate future.

We should not forget that the improving financial condition of Turner during the past few years has been, in a considerable degree, aided by the excellent work of our efficient tax collector, Ernest Morse. So far as we can learn, there is no record anywhere in Maine, to equal his of six years without an uncollected tax.

In spite of increasing labor costs and the acute scarcity of men, our highways have been well handled, and the expense for the year not unreasonable although the account for State Aid construction is considerably overdrawn. There are several reasons for this. In addition to the new construction between Howe's Corner and North Turner, we were urged by the State Highway Department to build the short piece from the North Turner bridge to the Livermore line. Then on the first-mentioned section, the contour of the land made the work expensive, with much grading and filling, but in particular the survey laid down by the State Highway Department made necessary the continuance of construction to a point where the old road and the new could be brought together.

When this was being done, prospects for obtaining tar for completion of the projects were quite remote. Later in the summer we accidentally heard a report that some tar was being allotted by the State to finish work in some cases. We put in a hurry call to Augusta, and an urgent request for tar for the new roads, and also for Lower Street. Much to our regret, none could be obtained except for unfinished new construction.

The State of Maine still owes this Town some $3,300 on 1942 construction, which we expect after the end of the war, and also reimbursement for some of the money over-expended this year.

All citizens can well be proud of the splendid new bridge at Turner Center. Not only is the previous danger of accident to the travelling public now eliminated, but the possibility of any future danger from floods is practically out of the picture. Mr. Mitton, the contractor, says he is looking forward to the building of the other bridge we expect to have when times are right.

We have made good progress in getting some of the old liens cleaned up, and some sales for unpaid taxes. Plans are now underway for a general clean-up of the older tax liens, so as to get them off the books. There are some technicalities which must be observed in the process of taking possession of property, and these have delayed our plans in some ways.

The Selectmen instituted a new filing card system last spring for handling the valuation work. While this added somewhat to the work last season, it will likewise expedite the work henceforth.

Now that things look pretty good at home, let us all dig in and spare no effort to help win the war.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. FRENCH,
FRED P. RICKER,
JOHN E. TEAGUE,

Selectmen of Turner.

In 1941 there was $59.26 omitted in the warrant. This was given me to collect in a supplementary tax.

To collect $59.26, abatements $9.48, receipt from Treasurer, $49.78.

I have had two warrants this year to collect taxes. The first warrant was 2% more than the law would allow.

This is the reason your correct tax bills were delayed, it takes time to have new tax bills printed and new tax bills made out and mailed.

I had collected $2,649.75 before I received the second warrant, this made $53.00 that has been paid back to the ones that paid by the first warrant.

Respectfully submitted,

ERNEST B. MORSE,

Collector.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of the Town of Turner:

For your consideration I wish to submit my seventeenth annual report of the condition of the school system in Turner.

In this second year of the war we find that our schools are operating in the regular manner. However, I am not entirely satisfied with the results that we are obtaining in all instances. These trying times however, we must expect some difficulties that are hard to control or to improve. The teacher situation is desperate. In some sections of the state, schools are closed because no teacher can be found.

We were fortunate this year in having the services of two Cadet or training teachers. This innovation has proved extremely satisfactory and the quality of work done by these teachers and the training supervisor leads us to believe that the program will be continued. It has surely helped us out of a lot of difficulty and the cooperation and understanding shown by the parents has been most helpful and appreciated.

I may say at this time that the prospects for next year are not too bright for any improvement in the supply of teachers. When we consider that next year the normal schools will have only about half as many in their graduating class and that the incoming class this year is small. I fear that we will be obliged to suffer for good teachers. We may do our bit to improve this situation by urging our high school girls to go to Normal school and prepare themselves for teaching. However, we must remember that competition from other activities will cut into the ranks of teachers. Higher wages and more security with a certain amount of glamour are the things we must contend with. Whether we continue to make our work in education attractive and to provide a good education for our children depends upon our financial support of the schools.

Following is a chart showing the registration in the various schools.

The Health work this year consisted of the usual checking and remedial work. There was also conducted last spring vaccinations for the prevention of small pox. Nearly all of the pupils attending school are now immunized from this disease.

We are anticipating an increase in our school expenditures for the coming year and these can be taken care of without much increase in the school budget. It was decided not to do any work on the water system at Turner Village this year due to the scarcity of labor and the difficulty in securing the necessary pipe. Plans are under way and by the time you will have received this report the legal aspects will be cleared up, we hope, in securing a spring on Bearce's Mountain and the right of way. When this work is completed we will have an adequate water system that will not need the annual expense of caring for a pump.

In closing this report may I ask your assistance and cooperation in solving our school problems. The attitude of the parent goes a long ways in making a successful school.

Respectfully submitted,

ISAIAH M. HODGES,
Superintendent.

During the past summer Community Canning centers were operated at Turner Center and Turner Village. Thousands of cans of fruits and vegetables were processed. This is the first time such activity was carried on in this community and it is felt that much good was the result. The plans for the coming year have not as yet been announced but it is felt that some program will be in operation and I urge you to seek all the information possible about it and to plan to can as much as possible for the coming winter. With the rationing of food stuff it will be necessary to provide our own insofar as possible.

This is a part of the Civilian Defense Program in which we may all share. At present there are six cases of canned food in storage as a reserve for emergency use. There has been delivered, to the following schools, commodities canned at this center for the school lunch program: Turner Center School 23 cases; Turner Village School 11 cases; North Turner School 10½ cases; Upper Street School 6 cases; Howe's Corner School 6 cases, and West Turner School 3 cases. The distribution was made on the number of pupils taking their noon lunch.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF LEAVITT INSTITUTE

Gentlemen:

The annual report of the Principal of Leavitt Institute for the year ending February 1, 1943 is here submitted:

Since the opening of school in September there has been a total enrollment of 133 pupils. By classes they are divided as follows: Seniors 22, Juniors 25, Sophomores 34, Freshmen 43 and Specials 9. Of this number 56 students pay tuition while 77 are from Turner. More students than usual have left school, as would have been expected. Some of these have taken employment and others have entered the armed forces, while still others have moved with their parents to war work centers. The number of town pupils has dropped from 99 in 1939 to the above mentioned 77 of this year.

War conditions have necessitated changes in secondary schools throughout the country. Under the direction of the State Department of Education Leavitt has attempted to meet these changed conditions without losing sight of the main purpose of schools, that is, education. The war aims for a secondary school located, as we are, in a rural community seem to be two. The first is to arrange the schedule so as to give all possible aid to farmers in the planting and harvesting of crops. The second is to make such changes in the courses and curriculum as will give the greatest aid in preparing students for war activity later, whether on the fighting front or the home front. Some of the changes we have made to bring about these ends are mentioned below.

Last spring and again this fall we adopted the one-session schedule starting in the morning at eight o'clock and getting out at one. This seemed to meet with general approval, as was shown by a survey of parents, and did result in giving real aid to many farmers. It seems wise to continue this schedule, spring and fall, for the duration of the war.

The second war-time aim has been met by putting in three hours a week of physical training for all students physically able to carry it; by giving a course of one hour each week in first aid and by giving attention to war activities and war needs in all classes where it is possible. This attention has been more pronounced in physics and mathematics than in any other field. It seemed unwise, with our limited teaching staff and equipment, to attempt a full course in pre-flight aeronautics. It is understood that a few of the larger schools in the state did attempt such a course, but that more have followed the plan we are pursuing. In physics the course this year has been altered considerably in order to get in the work in pre-flight aeronautics. Projection films especially prepared for this work have been introduced to take the place of some of the less important experiments. A weekly paper called Current Aviation has been used to advantage in this class and read eagerly by the students. Model airplanes have been made as outside work and much information about aviation obtained that should help those students who enter our armed forces, and that we hope may carry over at an air-minded America after the war.

In our work in first aid we were very fortunate in having the course taken over by one who not only is in constant touch with this work but who has had considerable experience in teaching it. I refer to Franklin Wade who has very generously offered the Institute his services for this course.

Of course athletic contests with other schools have been eliminated until the Federal government again permits us to use gas and rubber for such things.

I am sorry to report that, due to a very serious accident to her father, Miss Evans, our teacher of home economics last year, found it necessary to resign in June. She had proved herself to be an able and very cooperative teacher. She was a fine type of person who is bound to succeed and make friends wherever she may go. However, we were pleased to welcome in her place Janice Woodward, a graduate of Leavitt and of the University of Maine, a person well qualified to carry on the work in home economics.

Band rehearsals have been renewed after a lapse of some months following the resignation of Mr. Whipple. Leo Grenier, leader of the Ste. Cecilia band in Lewiston, has taken over this work. Mr. Grenier comes to Leavitt with a wide musical and teaching experience. He is capable of teaching nearly all the band instruments.

The following table covering some of the facts and figures of a ten-year period may be of interest. Cents are omitted in all cases. Column 4 is obtained by dividing the sums in column 3 by the corresponding number in column 2.

There are no notes against us and I know of no bills to be paid outside the usual routine.

The securities are listed this year at the price for which they could have been sold January 30, 1943. This method is subject to the fluctuations of the market. The quotation on a Bond or Stock may go above or below the cost several times before it is sold without particular significance. On the other hand, the value may get radically out of line with the cost as in the case of the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain R. R. Bonds which have been called to your attention both by myself and the Financial Committee on several occasions. This is the only item on our list which has not paid its interest this year. These bonds have not paid for several years and became practically unsalable. They were one of the first securities bought when the endowment was received from Mr. Leavitt and were undoubtedly considered high class at that time. In view of the foregoing, it was decided at a meeting of the Finance Committee and Treasurer to use current prices and we give the list at quotations obtained by Morton, Hall and Rounds.

Audit of my accounts was made as of June 2, 1942 by the State Audit Department.

Did you know we received more than this amount as a refund from the State on dogs? I will tell you how and why at our annual meeting. Several were late in licensing and had to pay 85 cents extra to the Dog Constable. The law states on or before April 1st. Why get caught?

Regarding ancient Vital Statistics, I am putting in all the time I can spare and have made real progress this winter. Have all families completed up to 1900, but there is still much indexing to do.

Most truly yours,

EARL B. HODSDON,
Clerk of Turner.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF CEMETERIES

Under a new law Turner for the first time began this year the care of Soldiers' graves. I am much pleased with the progress made and feel sure we can make normal growth each year. I am happy to report I have met with a friendly spirit from all. We have paid $.40 per hour to all, but feel this year we must pay as much as is paid to highway crews.

The following cemeteries were completely mowed over once and grass and bushes burned, Bear Pond, Harlow, Gen. Turner Hill and two at West Turner.

Others have had much better care than before and there is a real growing interest. 21 new markers were placed for 1812 Soldiers. Three others will be placed this spring and so far as I know every Soldier now has one.

We can secure no more for the duration. You will note we used only a little more than one-half the appropriation, this we are told cannot be carried over, therefore we are to ask for $100.00 for the work this year.

Herewith follows expense for 1942.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

The Public Library now claims to be an established institution in the town. Since official government recognizes libraries as a definite asset in winning the war, each town in the whole country can, in the urgent present need, place the library on a basis where it cannot be spared; where, next to the church, it will be the last place to be closed in emergency; the easiest place for which to secure funds, a place that will remain open at all cost because it is "essential"—essential to the mental and moral welfare of the entire community.

The Turner Public Library is serving as a distribution center for information and materials on Civilian Defense, rationing, and registration. Two boxes of books have been collected and sent to the Armed Forces and another box for contributions is in the library.

Several boxes of books both for adults and for children, have been received from Albert Field Gilman and gifts of books and money for the purchase of books from Mrs. William F. Ham. 4,332 volumes have been loaned during the year to over 180 borrowers.

ANNIE L. BRADFORD,
Librarian.

REPORT OF RED CROSS

With America at war the work of the Red Cross has increased greatly. It is the only civilian organization allowed inside army encampments. A Red Cross Home Service official is located at every army post to assist the service men with their home problems. The local chairman, Mrs. A. B. Ricker, and Mrs. R. D. Leavitt have been appointed as the Turner Home Service committee, which is the connecting link between the men and their families. To date Turner has about 75 boys in the Armed Forces.

The annual membership drive, usually held in November, has been postponed to be combined with a War Relief drive to be held in the Spring. The present membership is 126. A large list is needed to support the work.

196 knitted garments have been turned in by the knitting chairman, Mrs. Lester Chase. Several groups have done Red Cross sewing but have sent no reports to the chairman.

Expended in 1942

COMMENTS

CASH:

All cash recorded as received was found to have been properly accounted for and deposited in the bank as summarized on Exhibit B.

Expenditures were made by check from properly authorized warrants as summarized on Exhibits B and D.

The Treasurer's cash balance was reconciled with the bank as of January 31, 1943 and the Selectmen's records found to be in agreement. The detail is shown on Schedule 1.

TAX ACCOUNTS:

The 1942 tax commitment book was added and compared with the Assessor's records and both were in agreement with the Collector's warrant. The entire commitment was accounted for by cash remitted to the Treasurer, recorded tax liens and abatements.

The tax liens were examined and are all on file with the Town Treasurer. The detail is listed on Schedule 2.

The excise tax collections were examined and, according to these records, all receipts had been deposited with the Treasurer as shown on Exhibit B.

TRUST FUNDS:

All trust funds were examined and found to be in proper order and it appeared that all income had been properly accounted for. Schedule 5 shows the various funds and the investment of same.

GENERAL:

The dog licenses collected by the Town Clerk amounted to $271.90 which amount was paid to the State Treasurer.

A test check was made of paid bills and as far as our examination went, all appeared to be proper charges and correctly recorded.

With the exception of cash and trust funds, no external verification was made of your asset or liability accounts.

PRESERVE THIS REPORT

A sufficient number of these reports have been printed to furnish every interested citizen with a copy. An effort has been made to get them into the hands of the voters in advance. It should be borne in mind that if copies are left at home there may not be a sufficient number at the hall to go around on town meeting day. This year or any year it is desirable for you to have a copy of the annual report as soon as issued. It is also important for you to preserve it and bring it with you town meeting day morning.
